

CORRECTION

ART EXHIBIT - A story in the Friday, Jan. 25 edition about the Looking at Lewes – The Artist’s Eye exhibit scheduled to open at The Peninsula Gallery Saturday, Feb. 2, incorrectly stated the gallery’s website. The correct website is www.peninsula-gallery.com

Tom Walsh photo

The Sussex County Emergency Operations Center has joined with the Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Service in order to more effectively serve the county in the event of a disaster. Members of RACES will join the staff of the EOC in the new facility located on Rudder Lane in Georgetown. Above, left, is director of the Delaware Emergency Management Agency James Turner III, with director of the Sussex County Emergency Operations Center Joseph Thomas, right, and RACES radio officer John Ferguson.

Should Delaware legalize same-sex adoption?

- Yes
- No
- Not sure

vote

View Results

Past Poll Results

CapeGazette.com polls are strictly surveys of those who choose to participate and are therefore not valid statistical samples. No actions are taken by the Cape Gazette as a result of these polls.

Recent Stories | Cape Sports Scores

Resort chamber installs new officers, board members

VISITOR INFO

Cape Gazette
ARCHIVES
 Browse older editions for free.

302.645.7700

BeachBus.com

Sussex Traffic